What is the legal basis for our use of your personal data?

The legal basis for our use of your personal data will generally be one or more of the following:

- we need to process your personal data to satisfy our legal obligations and/or
- we need to process your personal data for the legitimate interests of administering and managing the Wessex Cave Club.

How long will we hold your data?

We will only keep your personal data for as long as we need it to administer Wessex Cave Club and to deal with any questions or complaints that we may receive about this, unless the law requires us to keep it for a longer period.

Your rights

You have a right to access and obtain a copy of the personal data that we hold about you and to ask us to correct your personal data if there are any errors or it is out of date. In some circumstances you may also have a right to ask us to restrict the processing of your personal data until any errors are corrected, to object to processing or to transfer or (in very limited circumstances) erase your personal data. You can obtain further information about these rights from the Information Commissioner's Office at: www.ico.org.uk.

If you wish to exercise any of these rights, please contact the Membership Secretary of Wessex Cave Club. You also have the right to lodge a complaint in relation to this notice or our processing activities with the Information Commissioner's Office, which you can do through the website above or their telephone helpline.
